LAB 10: PHP Login System with Sessions

1. In Lab 8, you developed a simple CRUD application that can populate, update, delete and retrieve records in MySQL database. In this lab, you are to develop a Login System for this application. The Login System should:

   - Allow users to register if they do not have accounts.
   - Allow users to Login in if they are already registered using username and password.
   - Manage user login state with sessions
   - Logout to terminate the session.

2. Submission Details.
   - Deadline : 19th April 2024 (23:59)
   - Single Document file containing:
     - Name and Student ID
     - URL to access your simple CRUD application
     - Login Credentials for single user created.
